

What to know before booking your IAFP Annual Meeting travel

1

When should I book my travel?

- As soon as you plan your arrival and departure days!
- Workshops and PDG meetings are excellent events for developing technical skills, networking with colleagues, and discussing ideas. These events require earlier arrival.
- Use the IAFP Hotel Reservation site to book rooms with the block discount!

2

Which days of the meeting should I attend?

- Workshops – July 12–13
- Welcome Reception – July 13
- PDG meetings, Ivan Parkin Lecture, Opening Reception – July 14
- Scientific Program – July 15–17
- Siliker Lecture and awards banquet – July 17

3

How should I travel?

Flying into Los Angeles International Airport (LAX) is likely the most economical route, though it requires additional travel to Long Beach. There are several other regional airports with limited service or higher cost.

For more details, visit foodprotection.org/annualmeeting/.

